

Make Your Voice Heard: Join the Disability Forum

Are you a resident of the Council living with a disability, a carer, or a relative of someone who is? Your voice matters, and the Disability Forum is the perfect platform to ensure it is heard!

What is the Disability Forum?

The Disability Forum is a dedicated space for residents with disabilities to engage with the Council and influence important decisions that affect their lives. Here's how being a part of this forum can make a difference:

- Foster Discussion: Facilitate meaningful conversations to break down barriers to equality and inclusivity.
- Consultative Body: Provide advice to the Council on disability-related issues, shaping how services are delivered.
- Advise and Challenge: Offer guidance and challenge the Council's Housing Management on matters concerning disabilities.
- Raise Concerns: Address and escalate general concerns through appropriate Council channels.
- Promote Positive Culture: Contribute to fostering a positive attitude towards disability within the Housing Management Department.

Why Attend ?

By attending the Disability Forum, you can contribute to significant changes and ensure that the needs and voices of those with disabilities are integral to the Council's policies and actions. It's a crucial step towards creating a more inclusive community within Housing.
